Info GPS

InfoGPS provides single use (Audit) and continuous software as a service solution (Monitoring) that finds sensitive non-structured data (for instance, account numbers and data that have been downloaded into an Excel spreadsheet) and then allows the user to determine if they need to better protect the data, delete it, move it, etc. Many data breaches have an origin in this unstructured data as the transactional, enterprise systems and their data is usually pretty well secured.

Paul is a lifelong IT Security Professional in Northeast Ohio. Graduating from Youngstown State and garnering his CPA, Paul moved over to IT to help organizations understand the risk of system threats to strategy. An executive office for many local institutions, Paul is a member of the NEO ISACA and a former fellow at ICIT. Both organizations oversee information system threats to business, personal information, and SCADA. Today, Mr. Hugenberg is focused on an entrepreneurial venture with InfoGPS, a company borne from the issues businesses have with protecting the sensitive information (regulated, safety, and business) on their networks.
